Special Sessions are prestigious and endow an opportunity to the organizer to define and elevate the quality of the conference by bringing in eminent people and serious researchers to present their results that potentially impact the direction of research in that topic. The reward to the organizer and other presenters of such a session is to network closely with the top researchers in their research field, to have an opportunity to impress, to influence other researchers in this field, and to mentor young researchers.

Procedure to submit a proposal for a Special Session:
